Travel

Nottingham is located in the East Midlands in the heart of England. The city's excellent transport links make it the ideal location from which to explore. Local, regional, national and international travel couldn't be easier. Furthermore, due to its variety of public transport and cycle routes, Nottingham has been named as the least car dependent city in the UK.

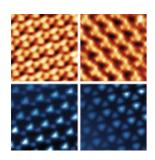

By air

Nearest airport: London East Midlands Airport (situated north of London), situated 13 miles (21km) south-west of Nottingham.

From East Midlands Airport you can take the Trent Barton Indigo service directly to the campus or the Skylink bus to Nottingham. Buses leave from outside the Airport Arrivals hall. There is a 24 hour Skylink bus service from East Midlands Airport to Nottingham City Centre. The service goes to the University Park Campus (on route to Nottingham Broadmarsh bus station).

By train

Nottingham is right in the centre of the country and is very well connected to all other major cities by the train network. Regular services operate between Nottingham and London St Pancras (from 1 hours 45 mins), Birmingham (1 hour 15 mins), Leeds (2 hours), Manchester (2 hours), or Sheffield (1 hour). For train information, tickets and timetables please contact National Rail Enquiries (tel: +44 (0)8457 484950). The nearest train stations are located in Nottingham City Centre or Beeston. Taxis and buses are available at both stations.

From Nottingham train station: The University Park campus is 2 miles from Nottingham Train station. A number of buses will take you via a short bus ride, then it is a 5-10 minute walk to the conference venue. Please refer to the bus stop maps attached to the end of this handbook. For route and timetable information, please see the Trent Barton website for more information: https://www.trentbarton.co.uk/nottsunimap

From Beeston train station: The University Park campus is between 1-2 miles from Beeston Train station which is between 20-40 min walk or you could take a short bus ride on Trent Barton's route 18 service and alight at the University South Entrance UN04 bus stop (https://www.trentbarton.co.uk/services/eighteen/maps-and-times). Alternatively, the more frequent Indigo service operated by Trent Barton goes from 'Beeston (Notts), opp Queens Road' (on Station Road) – a 5 minute walk from the train station.
